SPENCER HIGH SCHOOL

SPENCER, INDIANA

Years from now, when memory wanders back to the year of '61, the graduates of that year will have numerous, exciting experiences to recall. The class was unusual in that there were 102 of them as they entered their freshman year. One can never forget their all-night prom, the unique "Junior Revue," "The Other You," their smorgasbord and athletic accomplishments.

Throughout the following pages the story of their world is revealed. A world of laughter, grueling study, social activities, athletic events, and lasting friendships. Yes, the world of '61 was quite a year —a year that expanded their "corner of the world" into a world that enabled them to tackle the future.

WORLD

IN OUR CORNER OF THE WORLD WE:

With the new telephone building came the change in our telephone system.

Our way of life has been influenced by numerous factors. Many of these are a result of the progress of the community. As we gaze about us, we see the necessities of life provided for by the local merchants. Swift transportation and communication have also been of great benefit to us. In this land of freedom, our community has provided many churches for the religious phase of our lives. These are important individually, but to effect the result necessary in creating responsible citizens of tomorrow all facets must work together. Thus, our changing community has united in cooperation to surround us with an environment that is changing, moving forward.

BENEFIT FROM OUR

The new bridge serves as the gateway to our changing community. Spanning the distance between our world and the surrounding country is the magnificent, modern 1,050 foot bridge. It not only denotes faster transportation, but also represents the forward look of our community.

CHANGING COMMUNITY . . .

Our dreams are finally becoming a reality as the Community and School work together to raise money for the Medical Center. Mrs. Pitts, President of Teachers' Federation, Miss Galimore, Chairman of Teachers' Fund Raising Committee, and Charlotte Sargent, Chairman of Student Fund Raising Committee present a check to Mr. Frank Edwards, Treasurer of the Medical Center.

The Owen County State Bank is the most modernistic building in our community.

It seems that Girls' and Boys' State must have been fun by the expression seen on the faces of our representatives: Charlotte Sargent (left), Janet Wood, Nolyn Taylor, and Ed White.

Due to the guidance of Mrs. Kinney the future looks bright for Linda Wallace, our award winning Future Homemaker.

FILL OUR DAYS WITH

"Variety is the spice of life." This old proverb is testified to by the students of Spencer High. Busy, busy, busy, seems to rumble through the halls, lunch room, and activity periods. Whether engaging in noon recreation, study hall practices, lunch room antics, building the basis for their future careers or enjoying their hobbies, the students always found something to do and they did it. Constantly on the go, the students felt that not a minute must be wasted. It didn't matter whether their hours were filled with deep thinking or strenuous activities, these energetic kids found time for everything.

What shall it be today, sleep, eat or study?

The gossip session has started for another day as the Senior girls meet once again in the hall.

ENDLESS ACTIVITIES

During the week of January 23-27 special convocation services were held during the sixth period. This week, known as Religious Emphasis Week, was sponsored by the Community Ministerial Association. The Reverend Robert B. Hall, minister of the Ashland Terrace Christian Church, Chattanooga, Tennessee, was the guest speaker.

The members of the Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y furnished devotions for each session.

Mr. Hall was born in Louisville, Kentucky. Upon graduation from Louisville Male High School, he entered the Cincinnati Bible Seminary, receiving an A.B. degree in the spring of 1950. In 1955, Mr. Hall received a Master of Arts degree with a major in New Testament from Butler University in Indianapolis.

ENJOY VARIED

PROGRAMS THRU THE YEAR

Pegg McCrary, Inner Alice, makes a direct hit on John Dyar, Inner Willy, during the senior play: "The Other You."

Few indeed was the number of seniors who did not participate either in the "Junior Revue" or the "The Other You." The "Junior Revue" afforded opportunities for many juniors to display their special talents or merely join in the exhilarating experience of being a member of the cast. A smorgasbord of performances, the revue was enjoyed by its producers, cast, and audience. Engaging in such strenuous exercise as participating in a play deserves rich reward. Therefore, the play cast members arranged a banquet of ice cream, cake, potato chips and soft drinks after their last performance. Rehearsals for the "The Other You" were as hilarious as the actual performance of the "Junior Revue." The play itself, however, was more serious and limited in participants. The members of the cast enjoyed giving their performance and this was evident to their audience. According to the tradition set last year, the play cast arranged another party. After refreshments, movies of their last year's play were shown. These films brought back delightful memories, and though the cast was exhausted from giving their senior play they exclaimed: "Wouldn't it be fun to give another play? What about a Senior Revue?"

PRODUCED "THE OTHER YOU"

"The Other You" was a success. Those who made it very popular were John Dyar (left), Reggie Johnson, Deanna Summers, Larry Ritter, Merry Sindlinger, Pegg McCrary and Miss Galimore. SECOND ROW: Ed Cramer, Dwayne Johnson, Lela Bullerdick, Linda Wallace, Nedra Wallace, Patt McFarren and Nancy Lewis.

"JUNIOR REVUE"

good protection. This was one of the commercials in the "Junior Revue."

Traditions were broken when the Juniors entertained the Class of 1960 with an all night Prom. Dancing was in a Japanese Garden, which carried out the theme "Sayonara Serenade." Everyone enjoyed the Boys' Trio from Depauw. Later in the evening the Juniors and Seniors saw the movie "Don't Go Near the Water." Breakfast was served at 4:30 a.m. at which time door prizes were awarded. The Prom will always remain a highlight in the school day memories of the Juniors and Seniors.

Some of the Seniors do some last minute straightening of their caps and gowns before graduation.

GRADUATION.

"Oh! My aching brain," complain the students as they take the PSAT test. These are some of the Seniors who are looking forward to college.

SCHOOL BOARD APPROVES TV FOR CLASSROOMS

The Midwest Program on Airborne Television Instruction is a timely undertaking of the Spencer Community School. Plans for participating in the program were begun last January, 1960. The school board felt that the school's academic phase would be broadened by the use of television instruction. Since only the most highly qualified teachers present the programs, the procedures, the content of the lessons and materials are of great aid to the teachers of Spencer. The program is financed by the grants contributed from foundations, such as the Ford Foundation. The programs are broadcast from planes located approximately 20,000 feet above Montpelier. These programs are developed at Purdue University. Planes are used for broadcasting because they can serve larger areas than stationary broadcasting stations. During the trial period the programs are offered only to the elementary grades. Courses being broadcast are in science, music, art and social sciences.

Mr. Wade and Mr. Edwards, Elementary and High School Principals, along with Mr. Conrad, Superintendent, are making plans for the use of airborne television in our classes. All are eager to see the effects of television in the classroom.

Mrs. Dowell (left), Miss Galimore and Miss Myers discuss the basic principles of sentence construction in accordance with sentence diagraming. Mrs. Delight Powell received a B.A. degree from Depauw University, Miss Lois Galimore has a B.A. degree from Indiana University, and Miss Jean Myers has B.S. and M.S. degrees from Southern Illinois University.

ENGLISH TEACHES US MANY FUNDAMENTALS

"Does heavy modify box?"; "This book was written by . . ."; "Oh, I can never remember when Shakespeare lived!"; "The difference between a complex and a compound sentence is . . ." are all some of the familiar quotes heard among the English students as they learn the fundamentals of English. The fundamental facts were taught by the combined efforts of the three new English teachers, Mrs. Dowell, Miss Myers, and Mr. Blanton along wtih Miss Galimore. Although many moans and groans were heard throughout the year, we still found that English could be fun.

"It is filed under the author's last name," says Miss Galimore as she explains the library's card file to Don White.

This scene used in the Christmas program served as a background representing the combined efforts of Mrs. Ina Hight (left), Art Department; Mrs. Lillian Dyar, Choral Music; and Mr. Jerry Warmuth, Band. Mrs. Hight was graduated from Ball State Teachers College with a B.S. degree, Mrs. Dyar holds a B.S. degree from Indiana University, and Mr. Warmuth was graduated from Murray State College with a B.M.E. degree.

ART PLUS MUSIC EQUALS PROGRAMS

Today art and music play an important part in our every day school lives. They prove to be a source of enjoyment and education. For the past year the Art Department has produced staging for our Christmas program, the May Day program, and various other programs that have proved enjoyable to the public. The over-all appearances of these stagings have shown hard work on the part of the Art Department. The Music Department in cooperation with the Art Department has worked long hours to make the programs a success. The fine choral and band arrangements have been a credit to Spencer High School. The efforts of both departments have reached the goal of making our programs to the public a success.

1, 2, 3; 1, 2, 3 is heard by Barbara Baumgartner, Sandra Cox, Bill Franklin and Bob Sampson as Mr. Warmuth runs the clarinet quartet through their exercises.

Paint, paper mache, and molding clay, are all a part of the materials used by Mrs. Hight's art class each day as she helps them develop their artistic talent.

Mr. Patrick (left), Industrial Arts; Mrs. Kinney, Home Economics; and Mr. Quimby, Vocational Agriculture; discuss the federal aid to government sponsored courses. Mr. Robert Patrick holds a B.S. degree from Indiana University, Mrs. Marie Kinney holds a B.S.H.E. from Purdue University, and Mr. Randall Quimby holds both a B.S. and a M.S. degree from Purdue University.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING PREPARES FOR FUTURE

Through actual experiences in our vocational subjects, we are being prepared for life. In Home Economics, students learn the fundamentals of home living by preparing meals, sewing, and learning home management. The Agricultural department increases the students' skill by actual farm projects. The Printing department is an asset to the school since it takes care of the school's printing needs.

In tailoring class, Mrs. Kinney shows Pegg McCrary how to set a sleeve in the jacket of her suit which was modeled in the February style show.

"Will they light?" wonders everyone in Mr. Patrick's Industrial Arts Class as the switch is thrown.

Mr. Quimby points out the Agricultural development in the growing of corn.

"What shall we concentrate on next semester, volleyball, basketball, or baseball?" Miss Hamilton asks Mr. Smith as they plan the schedule for their physical education classes. Miss Isabelle Hamilton received a B.S. degree in HPER from Indiana University, while Mr. Tom Smith received B.S. and M.S. degrees from Indiana State Teachers College.

PHY. ED. BUILDS BODIES — BUSINESS TRAINS

The Physical Education Department develops coordination of muscles, minds and abilities. Each six weeks the students encounter different activities to build and increase their skills. Dancing, vigorous sports such as basketball, softball, and deck tennis are just a part of the many activities in which students participate. Along with the development of skills, the students learn the ability to get along with each other.

Good posture, curved fingers, legs uncrossed and eyes on the copy are the fundamentals in beginning typing. In office practice the correct use of the telephone, how to use a transcribing machine, how to file and how to obtain a job are among the many lessons.

Every fifth period Deanna Summers and Pegg McCrary struggle to get every word that Mrs. Rinne dictates.

Mr. Smith answers the last questions of Sylvia Fish, Eugene Riggs, and John Carpenter before they begin another driving lesson.

Mrs. Rinne and Mr. Ranum look over the quality of some of the letters typed in the first year typing class. Mrs. Anne Rinne was graduated from Indiana University with a B.S. degree in Business and a M.S. degree. Mr. Bennie Ranum was graduated from Indiana State with a B.S. degree.

Mr. Spangler (left) and Mr. Blanton direct their attention to the rapidly changing world. Mr. Renos Spangler has A.B. and M.S. degrees from Indiana University and Mr. Elmer Blanton has a B.S. degree from David Lipscomb College.

FOR WORK — SOC. SCI. TEACHES HOW WE LIVE

By the use of an informative chart, Stanley Henson explains some of the fundamental facts of General Business to the class.

"Assets equals liabilities plus proprietorship." "Income equals costs minus expenses." Time after time students use these fundamental bookkeeping equations to work out their practice sets.

One of the highlights in government class this year was that the seniors attended the Owen County Circuit Court to hear a case venued from Morgan County. The second semester seniors are required to take Economics from which they learn how price and demand affects our lives.

Special reports are one of the requirements in Mr. Blanton's World History course. Here we see Van Job giving a report to a group of sophomores.

Science teachers, Mr. Clark and Mr. Dyar, are showing the new math teacher, Mrs. Wessar, the school's new science equipment. Mr. Donald Clark was graduated from Indiana State with B.S. and M.S. degrees, Mrs. Judy Wessar has a B.S. degree from Purdue, and Mr. Richard Dyar holds a B.S. from Indiana State Teachers College.

MATH, SCIENCE ENRICHED BY NEW EQUIPMENT

We are confident that all who have sat in Mr. Appleby's math classes will long remember this typical scene as well as his endless patience and dry sense of humor. For the past twenty years Mr. Appleby's Spencer High School math students have set a high mark for themselves proving his fine abilities as a teacher.

Mr. Clark directs a scientific experiment as members of the class observe the apparatus and techniques involved in the distillation process.

Mr. Dyar explains humorously to members of his Biology class, "A poke in the tummy won't hurt this dummy."

Student teachers, Miss Dixon (left), Shorthand and Typing Department; Mr. Fleck, Social Studies; and Miss Ring, Home Economics, plan their daily class programs.

Mrs. Phoebe Kay, School Secretary, and her assistants, Rita Matkins, Marian Goldberg, Deanna Summers, Carolyn Franklin, Cay Cantwell and Shirley Baugh, work together to keep the office running smoothly.

OTHER PERSONNEL HELP WITH OUR PROBLEMS

BEHIND-THE-SCENE STAFFS PROVIDES EXTRA

The cooking department has double troubles. The staff must prepare food for hungry students in three different noon periods. The food must be nutritious and tasty to satisfy all the Cops from the most petite to the very rugged.

Over a period of years we find the food as good as ever for the same low price, 30c for a complete meal. The best of hot lunches possible is the aim of our cooks.

Cobweb chasers rate high for starting at five a.m. each Monday morning to warm the building after the long, cold weekend. Our six efficient janitors clean assigned rooms and work in shifts. The crew sweeps and dusts daily. The Spencer High School janitors find it necessary to work on Saturday occasionally.

Between 11:00 and 12:45 each day a steady flow of hungry students descend upon the cooks.

COMFORTS FOR STUDENTS

Miss Hamilton, Mr. Spangler, and Mr. Blanton, Senior sponsors, are helping the class officers, Bob Oberholtzer, Pres.; John Dyar, V.-Pres.; and Deanna Summers, Sec.-Treas.; plan the Senior trip.

After four years of hard work and lots of fun, the class of '61 is ready to accept their new roles in life. This year's seniors have made a name for themselves in the field of talent. Several members of the class served as officers of clubs and organizations such as Hi-Y, Student Council, Honor Society, Tri-Hi-Y, G.A.A., and many others. Their "Junior Revue" and "The Other You" will long be remembered as highlights of their high school days. When one thinks of scholarship, the class of '61 is certainly outstanding, shown by the scholarship ratings. Willingness to cooperate was a key word for this year's seniors which they exhibited in their efforts to make their prom, smorgasbords and teen nites a success. As graduation draws near, the seniors of '61 not only look back on their eventful four years but also look forward to their new world with high hopes and smiling faces.

SALES A BIG SUCCESS.

Terry MacMorran, V.-Pres.; Bill Franklin, Pres.; and Suzanne Gray, Sec.-Treas., discuss decorations for the Prom with their sponsors, Mrs. Kinney, Mr. Ranum, and Mr. Quimby.

Coke and hot dog sales at basketball games, presentation of class play, selling Christmas wreaths and holly are a few of the things that concerned this year's 74 juniors. This year's juniors were a group of individualists with various talents in music, sports, and learning. This year's Val-Jeans were composed of junior girls, which proves they can keep in step. Not only were the future seniors in step concerning music but also in fashion. Every new style of clothing, hair style or fad or joke was distributed among the juniors. Hard work was a watchword during their second semester. This was a time for careful planning in order to produce a successful play and an unforgettable prom. We, the seniors of '61, bestow our good luck and best wishes on the class of '62. May they execute their responsibilities to the best of their ability.

The Sophomores of '61 are eager not only for work but also for play. Although it was work selling magazines, they also enjoyed their class parties. Magazine sales was the sophomores' only fund raising project and they did a "bang-up" job of selling, surpassing all sales records of previous classes. They claim they are only warming up for next year. The majority of sophomores are known for their outstanding sense of humor—smiles flash throughout the class. The sophomores, although they had only one year of experience behind them, are well on their way to a successful four years of high school.

DAYS UNFORGETTABLE.

Freshman sponsors, Mr. Clark and Mrs. Dowell, greet class officers, Sue Giddings, Sec.-Treas.; Jerry Blair, Pres.; and Dennis Dreher, V.-Pres.; as they come from junior high to enter high school.

Even though the freshmen just entered into high school this year, they contributed much to the school's academic and social phases. This year's class of freshmen proved to be hard working, dependable members of many organizations. Their enthusiasm for school projects, pep block and music added greatly to the spirit of the school. Although tradition terms them as "green" freshmen, it is difficult to believe this term could be applied to such an industrious class. This year's freshmen are getting an early start on building their "corner of the world." Not long after their entrance to high school they were making their way through the halls of Spencer High like "old timers."

F.T.A. Gives Scholarship

The Future Teachers Club is an organization for high school students who are interested in the teaching field. Each member has an opportunity to develop the qualities and aptitudes basic to successful teaching by assisting teachers in their daily classes.

Last year the club adopted the policy of giving a $25 scholarship annually to a student who enters the teaching field. They sponsored their Scholarship Hop in November this year to raise money for this project.

The officers, Sandy Hammond, President; Annie Worley, Vice-President; and Dixie Woodruff, Secretary-Treasurer, worked with Mrs. Rinne to plan the activities for each meeting.

F.F.A. Members Earn While They Learn

The Future Farmers of America is a large organization consisting of 378,000 members and 9,000 local chapters.

The organization's activities are designed primarily to help develop rural leadership and good citizenship, and to stimulate the boys to better achievement in agricultural occupations.

The boys in F.F.A. have opportunities for such activities as conducting and taking part in public meetings, and assuming civic responsibilities.

The F.H.A. initiation is well under way with the President, Evelyn Harris, and other officers conducting the ceremony.

Better Homemakers Through F.H.A.

Future Homemakers of America is a national organization of young girls of junior high and high school age who are or have been homemaking students. All programs at national, state, district or local level are focused on helping each girl improve her personal, family and community living.

The chapter meetings provide many experiences that help each girl grow personally through planning programs, presiding at meetings and cooperating with others in various programs and activities.

Latin Club Emphasizes Classical Languages

The Junior Classical League was formed here by the Latin I Class of 1959-60. It has expanded this year by adding members from the Latin I Class of 1961. The officers for this year are Terrie MacMorran, President; Sandie Hutchens, Vice-President; Anise Scutt, Secretary-Treasurer, and Bob Oberholtzer, Reporter. The club is open to all students interested in classical languages.

Hi-Y Raises Money With Candy Sales

The Hi-Y Club is a nation-wide fellowship of high school youth working to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school and community, high standards of Christian character.

Selling candy was one of their money-making projects. Each year the club awards honor pins to the seniors in the club. These many projects could not have been accomplished without the continuing help of Mr. Blanton. The officers are Roger Kinney, President; Darwin Kinney, Vice-President; Larry Ritter, Secretary; Nolyn Taylor, Treasurer; Don White, Chaplain; and Bob Oberholtzer, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Tri-Hi-Y Helps Others; Banquet Huge Success

The girls decided to arrange baskets of clothing and toys for less fortunate people in the Spencer area at Christmas.

In April the members held a Mother-Daughter Banquet, at which time all senior members were presented with traditional gifts.

The purpose of the organization is: "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

"Left, right, left, right." "Keep in line." "Lift those knees and point those toes." All these commands and others are heard by the band as they practice for marching routines. Among the many marching performances, the band participated in the Martinsville Parade, Worthington Parade, Clay City Parade, Vigo County Fair and Owen County Fair Parade.

In addition to the marching programs, there were concerts and contests for which the band was always preparing. In the spring of 1960, the Spencer High School Band placed in the second division at the Mooresville District Band Contest. As an annual event the band presents a spring concert. This concert is greatly anticipated by the members. Contests and more contests are a part of the band ensembles. In February of '61 many of the band ensembles received first and second division ratings at the Indiana University Solo and Ensemble Contests.

Another big event in the life of a band member is the receiving of award sweaters by the Juniors and the receiving of musical chevrons by the Seniors.

For the year of 1961, the band and chorus were privileged to attend a one-day tour to the nearby towns. The tour was greatly appreciated by the schools.

Mr. Warmuth, band director, has provided new and interesting programs for the present and future members of the band.

Sforzanda Enjoys Musical at I.U.

Membership in this organization is limited to those who have shown interest and ability in various areas of music. At each meeting a senior gives a lesson concerning a type of composition, styles of music or a composer.

Mrs. Dyar has provided the club with invaluable assistance throughout their year of varied activities. A "Snowflake Ball" was held during the Christmas holidays for all members and alumnae. Members also enjoyed attending various musicals given at Indiana University throughout the year. Officers for the year include Charlotte Sargent, President; Cay Cantwell, Vice-President; Patt McFarren, Secretary; Linda Summerlot, Treasurer; Pegg McCrary, Historian, and Nancy Franklin, Reporter.

Beginners Learn Techniques

The beginning band is organized each year in the fall. Students are given music aptitude tests and physical ability tests to determine for which instrument they are best suited. Basic music fundamentals are taught this group as well as simple folk songs and harmonies. The sixth grade band is composed of students that have been in band for one year. This group studies the intermediate music procedures, easy marches, and simplified concert selections. The purpose of both these groups is to provide as many of the musically talented students as possible with a sound instrumental music background, and to help students enjoy good music.

Two of the Sixth Grade Band members, Sherrie and Steve Carpenter, are practicing diligently in hope that they will be accepted as Senior Band members next year.

Being a member of the chorus and of other choral ensembles entails more than having a good time. It requires being present at all regular practice and extra practice sessions. So work is an essential, even in chorus. But the fact that the chorus was well received at the high school Christmas program and at the April Choral Festival is evidence that hard work pays off in the end. The Madrigal Singers entertained for many clubs during the year. The sextettes enjoyed singing for the Christmas program and other various activities.

N.H.S. Gives to Medical Center

Scholarhsip, Leadership, High Character, and Service are the prerequisites for membership in this organization. Early in the year the members sponsored a drive within the school for contributions to the Medical Center. Members of the society are responsible for the publication of the junior high and high school honor rolls in the community newspapers. Every spring their activities are climaxed by a banquet and an impressive initiation conducted for the new members. Officers include John Dyar, President; Darwin Kinney, Vice-President; and Charlotte Sargent, Secretary-Treasurer. Through Miss Galimore's assistance this organization has assumed greater responsibilities.

Mediators Go to Work Keep School in Tune

The Student Council is composed of three members from each class. The purpose of the club is to act as a mediator between the faculty and students. The Council, under the supervision of Mr. Edwards, buys records for the noon hour recreation.

Science Club Gives Lectures to Grades

The sponsor, Mr. Clark, worked with Leonard Abrams, President; Stanley Henson, Vice-President; and Ed Cramer, Secretary-Treasurer; to plan the year's program. This included science film strips at the meetings, and a project for each member at the Science Fair in the spring. The members worked hard to create an interest in science in the elementary grades by presenting lectures and demonstrations to them.

Art Club Busy With Programs

The members of the Art Club together with the Art Department were kept busy this year with the task of making decorations for the school programs. They worked with oil paintings, leather works, castings, copper, enameling and mosaics. The officers are Terry Schooling, President; Ronald Stantz, Vice-President; David Brinson, Secretary-Treasurer; and Mrs. Hight, Sponsor.

The Secret of Success Is Teamwork

The B-Team under the management of Mr. Dyar, who is in his second year as coach, completed the season with a 10 and 8 record. Many of the team members were chosen to play on the varsity as the season progressed; Denny Dreher, Richard Baugh, Rick Rodenbeck and Tommy Greene being picked to play with the varsity during the State Tournament. In the picture at the left we see the B-Team striving to improve their rebounding skills during practice.

Cops Better 'Selves

"We're young and inexperienced, but with hustle and fight we can make up the difference." These were the words that Coach Smith used to describe his first Spencer team. With John Dyar, the only returning veteran, these words, couldn't have been truer.

The Cops were knocked down many times during the early season, but they were never knocked out, as they came back time after time to win many big games. As the season progressed the Cops learned from their mistakes and under Coach Smith's skillful guidance became a much improved ball club. They won their first three games in the Sectional before losing to Wabash Valley Champs, Brazil, in the final game 63-44.

G.A.A. Initiates New Sports

The Girls' Athletic Association is an activity of sports which includes: track, basketball, softball, volleyball and tumbling.

During the fall of 1960 the first activity of the year was field and track. The girls participated in high jumps, distance throws, relays, and dashes. This being the first year for field and track, records were set which will be a challenge to future participants in coming sessions of the activity.

Patricksburg G.A.A. challenged Spencer G.A.A. in the sport of basketball. Spencer won the game and was rechallenged to a second game which they lost.

The rest of the session was devoted to six weeks each in softball, volleyball, and tumbling.

At the end of the year, a banquet was given in honor of all the members. Here, awards such as numerals, letters, sweaters and plaques were given to girls who earn them on a point basis.

Val-Jeans Provide Half-Time Entertainment

The Val-Jeans Dance Workshop was organized to promote interest in dance in the high school. The group, nine girls and eight boys, performed for ballgames, charity functions, and for other school programs. The types of dances done ranged from interpretative to broadway show dances, from solo to full workshop dances. Miss Isabelle Hamilton sponsored the Workshop this year.

"We've got that ball and now we're gonna' go!" Patt McFarren helps make two more points for Spencer in the games against Patricksburg.

WE, THE SENIORS OF 1961, WISH TO THANK:

Mr. Howard Pietzuch for his time and patience in taking the pictures for the yearbook.

Mrs. Rinne and Mr. Warmuth for their everlasting help and time.

Mrs. Hight for her help in designing the cover and art pages.
